

EDITORIAL ADVISORY BOARD

Professor Dr. Brian Corbitt, Professor of Information Systems, Graduate School of Business and Law, RMIT University, Melbourne, Australia.

Associate Professor Dr. Makha Khittasangka, Dean of the International College of Mekong Region (ICMR), Chiang Rai Rajabhat University.

Professor Dr. Jung Sup Kim, Dean of Institute of International Education, Kyung Hee University, Republic of Korea.

Professor Dr. Kevin McCormick, President of Huntington University, Canada.

Professor Emeritus, Dr. Manop Pasitwilaitam, Chiang Rai Rajabhat University.

Professor Emeritus, Dr. Pongpit Piyapongse, Mahidol University.

Professor Dr. Livy Visano, Vice-President, York University, Toronto, Canada.

Professor Dr. John C. Walsh, Shinawatra University, Bangkok, Thailand.

Brian Corbitt holds a PhD in policy and knowledge management from Monash University (Australia) and is currently Professor Mentor at RMIT University, Australia. Professor Corbitt was previously Professor of Management Science at Shinawatra University in Thailand, Pro Vice Chancellor (Online Services) at Deakin University, and JADE Professor of eCommerce at Victoria University of Wellington in New Zealand. He has significant experience and international standing and recognition in information systems, national information policy, health informatics and e-learning. He specializes in IT policy development, in health information systems, analysis and implementation in business modelling and electronic commerce trade relationships, and knowledge management.

Jung Sup Kim is Professor and the Dean of Institute of International Education at Kyung Hee University, Republic of Korea.

Kevin C. McCormick is President of Huntington University in Canada. He obtained a Ph.D. (Social Justice) from York University in Canada.

ManopPakitwilatham was the former President of Chiang Rai Rajabhat University. He obtained a Ph.D. in Development Education and Master of Education in Higher Education from Sirinakharinrajavidyalaya University. He also holds a B.Ed (mathematics) from Bangsaeen College of Education and a Bachelor of Law from Sukhothai Thammathirat Open University. In addition, he has received advanced training in a variety of overseas countries in higher education, with an emphasis on in-depth study of social development and development education administration. He is the recipient of an honorary Doctorate of Sacred Letters from Huntington University in Canada.

Livy Visano holds a PhD (Sociology) from the University of Toronto and is currently Professor of Criminology at York University in Canada. He is the former Dean of Atkinson Faculty of Liberal and Professional Studies and former Chair of Sociology. He is currently completing a number of large research projects including one for the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council on 'Media and Youth Gangs.' He has received numerous awards for outstanding contributions to teaching as well as supervised many doctoral students and authored more than 8 books and over 50 articles in the field. He is Vice President of the York Faculty Association, and Vice Chair of Huntington University Board of Regents. He serves on the Boards of numerous community organizations and served as Vice President of Social Planning Toronto. In addition, he has served as a consultant to government agencies at all levels, including federal, provincial and local levels.

John Walsh received his Doctorate from the University of Oxford with a thesis related to UK business in East Asia. He is Professor at the School of Management, Shinawatra International University in Thailand, where he lives with his wife and daughter. He has also lived and worked in Greece, Sudan, Korea, Australia, Abu Dhabi and his native UK. These days, his research mainly focuses on the social and economic development of the Greater Mekong Sub-Region and ASEAN Economic Community.

Robert U. Doyle holds a Ph.D. in Community Development and Social Planning from the University of Toronto, an M.A. in Social Work, a B.A. in English Literature and a Certificate in Teaching English as a Second Language (TESL). He is a former Professor of Social Work and Social Welfare, and Director of the Centre for Rural Social Research at Charles Sturt University, Australia. He is the founding President of Global Concerns

Company limited, based in Bangkok and dedicated to strategic human resource management in Asia-Pacific. He is also a former Professor of Social Development at Naresuan University in Thailand, taught at the Institute of Sociology in Hanoi and was a consultant for the Southern Institute of Social Sciences in Ho Chi Minh City, Socialist Republic of Vietnam.

Pongpit Piyapongse is a Professor Emeritus of Mahidol University from which he obtained a D.Sc. in Technology Environmental Management. He also achieved 2 M.Sc.s. from Oklahoma State University; the first in Geology and Soil Science and the second in Agricultural Science.

MANAGING EDITOR

Associate Professor Dr. Makha Khittasangka holds a Ph.D. in Community Development from the University of the Philippines at Los Banos and Honorary Doctor of Sacred Letters from Huntington University, Canada. She is Dean of the International College of Mekong Region (ICMR), Chiang Rai Rajabhat University, Chiangrai, Thailand. She has a M.Sc. in Communication and a B.Sc (Honors) in Agriculture. She was the international expert in the Professional and Higher Categories with the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO), an assignment with the Government of Indonesia. She has organized many international conferences, written extensively on a broad range of issues and consulted with a wide variety of organizations and government agencies. She has provided consultant services to projects in Macao, the Philippines and Indonesia with overseas development and relief agencies including the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO). Catholic Relief Services as well as to UNICEF, UNIFEM, UNDP and the ILO in the area of diversified forest rehabilitation, credit systems, gender and development, children and youth development, small farming enterprise, environmental and agricultural development.

CONTRIBUTORS

Chatchai Panananon

Associate Professor Dr. Chatchai Panananon received his B.Ed. (cum laude) from the College of Education, Phitsanulok, an M.Ed. from Srinakharinwirot University, an M.B.A. from Illinois State University, and the Ph.D. from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, U.S.A.

Chatchai was the Fulbright Scholar-in-Residence at North Central College in Naperville, Illinois, U.S.A., during academic year 2003-2004. His research papers entitled “The Indian Model of Siamese Slavery” and “CBT: An Illusion of Success, Prices for Failure” were on the Best Practice Awards lists in 2010 and 2011, respectively. “Groceries on Wheels” is his third research paper to receive this honor from The Inter-University Cooperation Program International Conference forum.

Dr. Chatchai Panananon is currently the Director of the Center for Research and Development, Ratchaphruek College, Nonthaburi, Thailand

Simmee Oupra

Dr. Simmee Oupra, received her B.A. (English), M.Ed. (TEFL), Cert. (Research in Education), Ph.D. (Linguistics), Edith Cowan University, Australia, and The University of Adelaide, Australia respectively. She is currently teaching at Chiang Rai Rajabhat University. In 2003 she was selected by the Department of States of the United States of America to participate in the International Visitor Program to attend a short course and briefings in “University Administration”. With regards to her experience, she has worked as the Assistant to the President in International Relations from 2010-2012. Simmee has won The Best Practice Award from the International Conference forum from her article “Vocabulary Use in Three Hmong Generations” presented in Brunei Darussalam in 2013.

Mrs. Panida Wongrach

Mrs. Panida Wongrach is currently an Expertise Teacher, teaching at Banmaelu School, Long District, Phrae Province. She gained her Bachelor’s degree in Management Science and Master’s degree in English from Chiangrai Rajabhat University. She has had numerous opportunities to teach at different schools in the hill areas and gained special insights into the teaching of students with different tribal backgrounds. She noticed cases where ethnic and tribal languages of her students are on the decrease thus embarked upon her work entitled Hmong Vocabulary Change in Bankhunhuaimaepao village the village where her former school situated. She and her advisor had co-written the paper entitled “Vocabulary Use in three Hmong Generations” and added insights into the linkages of language to the social and physical environment. The article title has won the Best Practice Award Presented in Brunei, 2013.

Krichkanok Sudasna

Assistant Professor Dr. Krichkanok Sudasna, is the Dean of the Faculty of Architecture and Design, Rajamangala University of Technology Rattanakosin (RMUTR). He holds a Ph.D in Architecture and Master of Architectural Design from the University of New South Wales, Australia, and Bachelor of Architecture with Honors from King Mongkut's Institute of Technology Ladkabung (KMUTL). He is also accepted as a professional architect and an expert in energy conscious building design. Krichkanok is also the visiting lecturer for postgraduate programs in other leading universities, such as Silpakorn University, King Mongkut's Institute of Technology Ladkabung and Sukhothai Thammathirat Open University.

Tin Naing Win

Dr. Tin Naing Win, is the lecturer in the Department of History, Yadanabon University, Mandalay, Myanmar.

Naing Win

Dr. Naing Win, is the demonstrator in the Department of Zoology, Yadanabon University, Mandalay, Myanmar.

Nwe Nwe San

Dr. Nwe Nwe San, is an Associate Professor in the Department of Zoology, Yadanabon University, Mandalay, Myanmar.

Nwe Nwe Aung

Dr. Nwe Nwe Aung is the lecturer in the Department of Industrial Chemistry, Yadanabon University, Mandalay, Myanmar.

Chit La Pyae Myo Hein

Chit La Pyae Myo Hein received B.C.Tech from University of Computer, Monywa, Sagaing, in 2006, B.C.Tech(Hons) from University of Computer, Monywa, Sagaing in 2007, M.C.Tech from University of Computer, Taunggyi, Shan in 2010. She worked as a tutor at University of Computer (Taunggyi) in 2008. Now she is a Ph.D. candidate in the University of Computer Studies, Mandalay, Myanmar. Her research interests mainly focus on fuzzy control system, electronic devices and mobile security.

Hlaing Myo Myo Htay

Dr. Hlaing Myo Myo Htay is the lecturer in the Department of Industrial Chemistry, Yadanabon University, Mandalay, Myanmar.

Prayong Keeratiurai

Dr. Prayong Keeratiurai, is the lecturer in the department of Civil Engineering, Faculty of Engineering, Vongchavalitkul University, Thailand. He holds a Ph.D. and Master Degree in Environmental Engineering from Suranaree University of Technology, Thailand, B.A. in Civil Engineering from Khon Kaen University, Thailand. Prayong is also a teaching staff in Management Engineering Program of Vongchavalitkul University.

LEGEND FOR PUBLICATION.

Groceries on Wheels by Chatchai Panananon was originally published by the International College of Mekong Region, in International Proceedings “ASEAN Community Knowledge Networks for the Economy, Society, Culture, and Environmental Stability”, 2014.

A Study of Vocabulary Used in Three Hmong Generations at Bankhunhuaimaepao Village, Phayamengrai District, Chiangrai Province by Simmee Oupra, Panida Wongrach was originally published by the International College of Mekong Region, in International Proceedings “ASEAN Community Knowledge Networks for the Economy, Society, Culture, and Environmental Stability”, 2014.

The Green Architecture Model Based on Modern Thai Wisdom: The Interconnecting Knowledge Networks of Sustainability for Cultural Heritage, Ecological, and Environmental Equilibrium by Kitipong Tepjitara was originally published by the International College of Mekong Region, in International Proceedings “ASEAN Knowledge Networks for the Economy, Society, Culture, and Environmental Stability”, 2013.

Design of Energy Efficient Townhouses in Songkhla, Thailand by Krichkanok Sudasna was originally published by the International College of Mekong Region, in International Proceedings “Toward Enhancement of Economic, Social, Technological and Environmental Development for Welfare Implications in the Greater Mekong Sub - region and Asia-Pacific”, 2011.

The Waste Recovery Systems Applied to Vertically Integrated Farming by Prayong Keeratiurai was originally published by the International College of Mekong Region, in International Proceedings “ASEAN Community Knowledge Networks for the Economy, Society, Culture, and Environmental Stability”, 2014.